

Transfiguration of the Lord

From the Pastors Desk

Slave or Servant?

The English word “slave” invokes the image of African - American slavery in recent centuries, however, the word itself has had a wide range of meanings, especially in the Greek and Roman world of the first century. At the Annunciation, when Mary says that she was the “handmaid of the Lord”, the word “handmaid” was the same word used for “slave”.

Slaves back then included various kinds of laborers:

A. The lowest end would be those who rowed the ships or worked in mines.

B. The next step up would be those who worked in households, much like the English butlers and servants, portrayed on stage and movies.

C. At the higher level were teachers, or administrators of farms and businesses.

First Reading: Daniel 7:9-10, 13-14

Daniel depicts God as a judge with many people standing before Him. He also describes a man who came to him, and was given power over all other people. This power is described as everlasting and never to be destroyed.

Second Reading: 2 Peter 1:16-19

Peter discusses how the disciples witnessed Jesus being honored and spoken to by God, fulfilling all the prophecies. He also reminds us that these prophecies were God's words, delivered through a person moved by the Holy Spirit.

Gospel: Mt 17:1-9

Jesus took three of His disciples to a high mountain, where Elijah and Moses appeared and spoke to Him. Peter suggested they make three tents, one each for Jesus, Moses and Elijah. While he spoke, a voice came from a cloud saying, “This is my Son, the beloved one; listen to Him.” The disciples became very afraid and fell to their knees. Jesus told them to rise and not to be afraid. As they looked up, they saw only Jesus. As they left the mountain, Jesus warned the disciples not to mention this until he had risen from the dead. Although they did not understand, they obeyed.

Reflections

Peter, James and John were astounded by the transfiguration of Jesus. They could hardly believe their eyes. Peter immediately thinks about setting tents - places to keep everyone where they were. We are often like Peter. We want to cling to a special moment and never move on. But that is not what special moments and insights are about. They are giving to us to help clarify our vision and understanding so that we can move on and take up the challenges that lie ahead. Recall some special moments in your own life that brought you some insight or clarity. Did you use those moments to move on or did you try to "preserve" them like a relic? Consider what these moments may have been preparing you for and how that awareness might help you in the future.
